port of an intelligent community. Nor is it difficult to discern the well-spring from which flows the principle that gives vitality to the measures upon which we have been called to animadvert. The hon-skin of one honored Democracy cannot be stretched to come the car-marks of a federalism that has outlive the ravages of years, and still idourishes green and the infirmative stage.

In view of the facts and deductions thus stated, we arraign the present Federal Administration at the bar of public judgment, for its departure that the foundamental principles upon which our prevenuent was based, for its reckless disregard of the webars of the whole country, and its palpable ministration to sectional demands and predatory is exerts.

We arraign it for its present persistent forts to subvert and control the represent states of the people in their legislative capacity and to reader the law-making branch of the x essument a seen stiperatinary record of executive states. We arraign it for its nearliest intention to perk and control the Federal Judiciary, and the subversion of State authority and independence. We savaign it for its reckless extravagance in squanderic general substance of ear people upon unnecessity of the and for the enriching of parasitic politicians. Seeing the expenditures of a single year of peace, and we this administration, a period of twenty of the government rean its foundation to the close of administration, a period of twenty of the foreson's administration of the continuent of the continuent of the continuen close, of befferson's administration, a period of twenty years. We arraign it for its interference in electrons. We arraign it for its interference in electrons whose chief resonances through hordes of my cenaries whose chief resonance dation to official fevor is found to be in their ability to pack conventions and salvert the parity of the elective franchise; of which a most notable example is found in the recent election in the First Congressional District of Missouri. We arraign it for its federal tendencies and efforts to turn the Government from its insited objects and restricted action into a virtual morarch, around which the States whall revolve as more satellites, while the President sits enthroused as the raling spirit of the usurpation. And, finelly, we arraign it as false to the highest object for which government is established, the liberty of the And, finelly, we arraign it as false to the highest object for which government is established, the liberty of the citizen—for its persistent efforts to plant Slavery on a soil consecrated to freedom by solemn compact—for its persecution of freemen for no other cause than their devotion to the memory and example of our patriot fathers, thus alienating the affections of our citizens from the rovernment of their choice, and rendering our people the victimes of discord at home, and our country an object of contempt abroad. It is to condemn and rectify abuses such as these that we now invite the cooperation of all friends of sound constitutional government, no matter by what political designation heretofere known, or under what hanner ennation heretowere known, or under what hanner en rolled.

The exigencies of the times, the perils to which our institutions are exposed under the sway of rulers weak and wicked, sall for a union of all whose patrolic im-pulses prompt them to rice above devotion to mere party interests, and who can behold in the westers of and wicked, call for a unsen of all whose patrolic impulses precept them to rice above devotion to mere party interests, and who can behold in the weifare of a common country abundant cause for burying personal prejodices and misor differences of opinion. Surely no gerson with geomine American feelings can ask for a higher, holier sphere of duty that that which calls him to the defense of those principles of governmost which our patriot fathers incorporated into our political system, in order to "form a more "perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic "tranquetty, promote the general welfare, and secure "the blessings of liberty." No real democrat can anywhere find a more consonant object of effort than that of bringing back the administration of public affairs to that konest and fragal simplicity, that rigid adherence to constitutions law which marked the earlier days of the Republic, when democratic principles were a reality and not a sham, and when "bonesty," integrity and faithfoliess to the Constitution were the presequisites to official station. And certainly no consistent Republican can shrink from giving his heart and head to the good work of limiting those aggressions upon the rights and privileges of the Labor that have characterized the last and present Pederal Administrations—of arresting the reinous extrawagances which now threaten to overwhelm the country in a vortex of public debt and consequent taxation—or restoring to each Department of the Government its just influence and necessary independence, and of inflicting a merited retribution on an Administration that has proved treacherous to the best interests of a confiding constituency, and false to the institutions and historic fame of a republic that embodies the hopes, as it shares in the benisons, of the lowers of Freedom in every clima and nation.

We come not to you, fellow-citizens, in a spirit of narrow selfishness. We seek not to bind you to the accountry from bad government, and bringing it back to those wholesome principles whic

As a step toward the attainment of these lenignant results, this Convention has placed in nomination candidates for the respective stations to be filled at the coming election, of known shility, probity and character, and invite for them the vigorous and effective support demanded alike by their personal worth and the importance of the principles they are called upon to represent. To render your action successful, it is necessary not only that the cause and its candidates should have your good wishes, but that your efforts in their behalf should have that steadfastness and universality of action which flow from thorough organization. Let each county, township and election district proceed at once to that thorough canvass by which the vote of every elector shall be secured, and by means of which alone frands upon the franchise can be detected and thwarted. A disastrous and shameful defeat at the last election resulted from an omission to carry out this essential precaution, and the dear-bought lesson should warn all against another emission of a duty as indepensable to effective operation in a political campagn, as it is certain of a crowning tramph whenever thereughly carried into practical operation. Strong in the confidence of a just cause, proud in the presentation of a ticket composed of enlightened and particular citizens, relying upon the discriminating intelligence of a virtuens, community, we challenge our oppenents to the contest, in the full assurance that the tribunal with whom is left the arbitrament of the great questions involved will render a verdict which shall be worthy of the past history and proud position of the State of New-York.

The first four resolutions reiterate firm opposition to Slavery, and to its extension into our vast national territory.

About sixty scalents have al ready entered at the University.

St. Louis Fair.

St. Louis Fair.

Sr. Louis, Thursday, Sept. 9, 1838.

Yesterday was the most interesting and exciting day of the Fair, thus far.

The calibition in the morning consisted in a remarkably fine display of thoroughbred and native eatile, the premiums for which were divided between the States of Missouri, Illinois, Ohio and Kenthacky.

In the afternoon the very demax of intense excitement was reached by the display in the amphitheater, there being a large number of Morgan, Black Hawk and other breeds of roadsters, embassing staffons, geldings and mares of all ares, and probably ne better collection of horses ever exhibited at any fair in the Union. The interest in the fair continues 20 inter-collection of horses ever exhibited at any fair in the Union. The interest is the fair continues his increase and fresh estries of horses and cattle are daily being made, to-morrow morning there will be an exclusive exhibition of Morgan and Black Hawk horses, of which about forty are on the ground.

Professor Raccy, the tamer, gave a very satisfactory exhibition of his wonderful power over wild, victous horses, yesterday.

The weather is charming, and thousands upon thousands of spectators through the grounds daily.

Arrival of the North American.

Mosterat, Thursday, Sept. 9, 1838.

The steamer North American, from Liverpool August 25, arrived at Quebec at 6 o'cleck this evening. Her detention was caused by fog. She has not been in collection with any vecsel, and there is nothing the the matter with her how sprit or rigging. The private dispatch sent to New-York was the merest conjecture, and as such deserving of the strong at reprobation.

Meeting of Railroad Presidents.

The Presidents of the New-York Central, Eric, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Oko Railroads met in consultation at the Grard House this evening, and have under consideration, as a basis for the extlement of their difficulties the agreement made at New-York July 5, 11 is doubtful, however, whether my cettlement will be made to night.

10 r. s.—The Railroad Convention is most harmonious thus far, but no determination has been arrived at.

A large number of representatives of the Western Railronds are here awaiting anxiously the action of the Presidents of the roads, at the event of no settlement of the difficulties, and no advance in rates, they appear determined to hold a Convention at Columbus on Tuesday, for the purpose of increasing their own

Correction .- An error having occurred in the pub lication of Mr. Field's letter, in our columns yesterday, we now give it in its correct form:

To the Editor of The N. Y Tribune. Siz: I have received from Newfooddland a dispatch, in forming me that although the insultation of the Ocean Cable remains perfect, no message has come ever it for several days.

The last telegraphic dispatch that i received from England was dated London, September 1.

What may be the cause of the cessation 1 do not know, but conjecture that it is the change of the shore end at Valentis, which I was informed was about to be undet.

New York, Sept. 8, 1858.

—Some—other statements, furnished to us at the same time with Mr. Field's letter by the reporter of the Associated Press, were erroneously printed as part of that letter. For these statements Mr. Field is not responsible.

THURSDAY, Sept. 9-P. M. Stock transactions at the First Board were mostly at a decline from the closing rates of yesterday, but the most prominent characteristic of the market is its singular steadiness in the midst of unusual duliness. So far as the movements at the Board indicate the feelings and opinions of speculators, they appear to be very much at a loss which way to turn, and the indisposition on the part of operators for the rise to load up with stocks, is not greater than that of their opponents to put-out contracts for the fall. The ease in money, and the decline which has already taken place, are the arguments against short sales, while, on the other side, the apathy of the public does not encourage speculation for an advance. The commission brokers are having a very inactive time of it, and to them almost any change in the market which would attract orders to buy or sell would be exceedingly welcome. It is seldom that the trade for actual investment is so much restricted, and this feature is not only witnessed in Railway stocks. but in State Securities and Bank shares. Railway but in State Securities and Bank shares. Railway bonds for several days past seem to have had a pref-Exchange. erence in the demand, and in some instances have a firm as well as a rising market, but even in these the business is unusually light. On the Share list there was a decline of 1 P cent in New-York Central, Erie, Hudson River and Reading, with much less than the average of daily transactions in each. Reading was pressed for sale more freely than of late, and the supply pressed for sale more freely than of late business is unusually light. On the Share list there | for the week ending the 6th instant; buyers. Michigan Southern old and preferred shares were both a fraction lower, but had a tolerably steady market at the decline. Galena declined 1, and Rock Island with considerable sales was also a shade lower, but both went through the calls with a fair degree of firmness, taking the general dullness of the market into account. Illinois Central declined to 741 and was heavy. The depression is in sympathy with the reduced quotations of the English market, as reported by the Asia. The decline in England was in consequence of the discouraging accounts in August. The favorable change in the traffic of the line which occurred later in the month, was not reported until about the 1st of September. When these accounts reach England the confidence of shareholders there is likely to be very mucl strengthened. The business for September thus far promises well, and will probably reach from $40,000 $50,000 in the first week. Milwaukee and Mississippi declined 1 at the First Board, but was up again to 17 at the Second. The business for August is unofficially reported at about $74,000. Pacific Mail Steamship Co. was steady at from 92 to 92] during the day. The threatened competition by the Transit route seems to have lost its terror, for the present at least. At the Second Board prices were slightly firmer, but the lack of animation was quite as marked as in the morning, and the movements were of a dragging and hesitating character. The closing prices were, for New-York Central, 794 € 794; Erie, 18 € 184; Reading, 484 € 49; Michigan Southern, 241 224; Preferred, 45; # 46; Galena, 85 2 831: Rock Island, 721@721; Toledo, 341; Michigan Central, 581w584; Illinois Central, 74w741; Hudson River, 281 @ 281; Missonri 6s, 841 @ 84], &c.

S. Draper's daily anction sale of Bonds and Stocks will take place to-morrow (Friday), at 124 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange.

The Clearing-House exchanges to-day were $16. 483,296 28, and the balances $843,887 09. The Metropolitan certificates remain at $3,000. There is no variation of importance to notice in the Money market. The fact that an increased business movement is taking place must tend to give a gradual firmness to discount rates, and as it gains in volume the supply of paper will be larger-but we are not likely to meet My lively demand for money until the interval of credit expires on the twin obligations created. There is less disposition over to negotiate at the current low rates for paper of longer than sixty days to run. This is the only change worthy of notice.

will exceed twelve and a half million bushess, an increase of one-third over last year. Of floor we shall have 1,400,000 harrels; also an increase of about two-fifths. But we shall inevitably have an increase in our post-harvest as well as ante-harvest trade. We say this in the face of a knowledge of a short crop in many localities West. Lake Michigan shipped 7,704,000 bushels of wheat last year, to points other than Buffalo. We propose to get about five-sevenths of that deficiency this season. Arrivals at points in the West are very large already, from the new harvest, and, under the impetus of better prices, more money, and the absence of panic, it must come forward much more freely than last year. When engaged in the argument for reduction of tolls on wheat last Spring, we stated the probable receipts of wheat at this port for 1858, under the stimulus of reduction, at 12,000,000. We revise our figures. They were too small. We now claim 14,000,000 bushels of wheat as the amount to be received at this port during the season of navigation. Of floor we should have at least a million and a half of barrels, against 845,000 last year." gation. Of flour we should have at least a last of barrels, against 845,000 last year.
